"THEE MOST RE-HEATED BOWL of Soup... EVER."

Dear Loved Ones, I loan you this Book, so you can understand, as I have, some insights into thee Mysterys of the Universe, such as Plumbing, Food Preperation, & the "Between the Lines" Witisisms of Mark Twain, & others, but Maybe not in this Book, as I forgot which one I Pasted it in for your Special Event. Ha.

What might Not be in this Book, (You gotta return it anyway), is some of my Insights, that might be Helpful. Only 2 Things...

- 1) Don't Waste a Good Model on Bad Drawing. & #2 is...
- 2) I Usually only notice the hole in the Time-Space Continuum, when I'm Making Soup... Sometimes.

"& YOU CALL THIS CELERY?"

"I WAS THINKING ABOUT THE GUYS, WITH THE BOATS, THAT HAVE THIS SOUNDING DEVICE, THAT TELLS THEM HOW DEEP SO MANY FISH ARE & SUCH LIKE THAT, LABORING, WHERE TO PUT THE "DOO DA" ON THE 3 - 3, ON THE HAND, OR THE BIRD, WONDERING ABOUT THE OFFENCES DONE, (with the Title) , & HAVING A GOOD LAUGH, HALF-WAY THROUGH THIS, REALIZING, THAT MUST BE MY IDEA OF CARROTS

Twist off the claw.

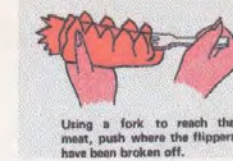

Crack each claw with a nutcracker.

Separate the tailpiece from the body by bending the back until it cracks.

Bend the flippers back and break them off of the tailpiece.

Using a fork to reach the meat, push where the flippers have been broken off.

Unhinge the back from the body. This exposes the liver or "tomalley," which is considered one of the lobster's tastiest parts.

Crack the remaining part of the body sideways.

Finally, the small claws should be placed in the mouth and the meat sucked out.

DIP IN BUTTER

Crack each claw with a nutcracker.

HOW TO IDENTIFY STAMPS

The first step in the study of Postage Stamps is to be able to determine the country of a stamp. This is usually very simple as the names of the countries are usually printed right on the stamps.

INSTRUCTIONS IN COLLECTING POSTAGE STAMPS

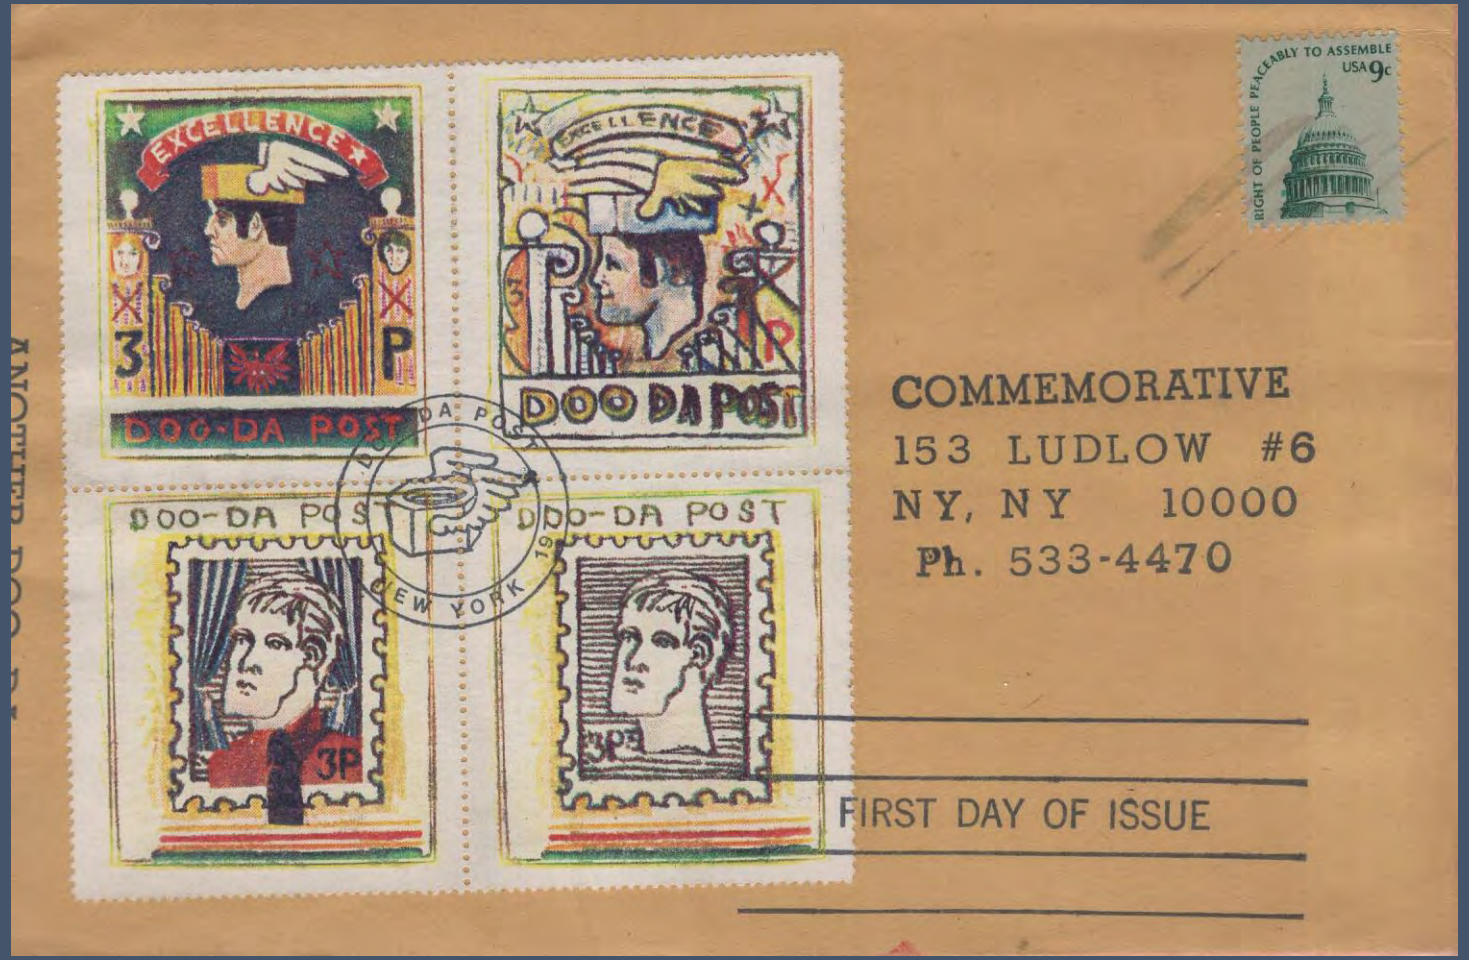

HOW TO IDENTIFY STAMPS

The first step in the study of Postage Stamps is to be able to determine the country of a stamp. This is usually very simple as the names of the countries are usually printed right on the stamps.

a performance:

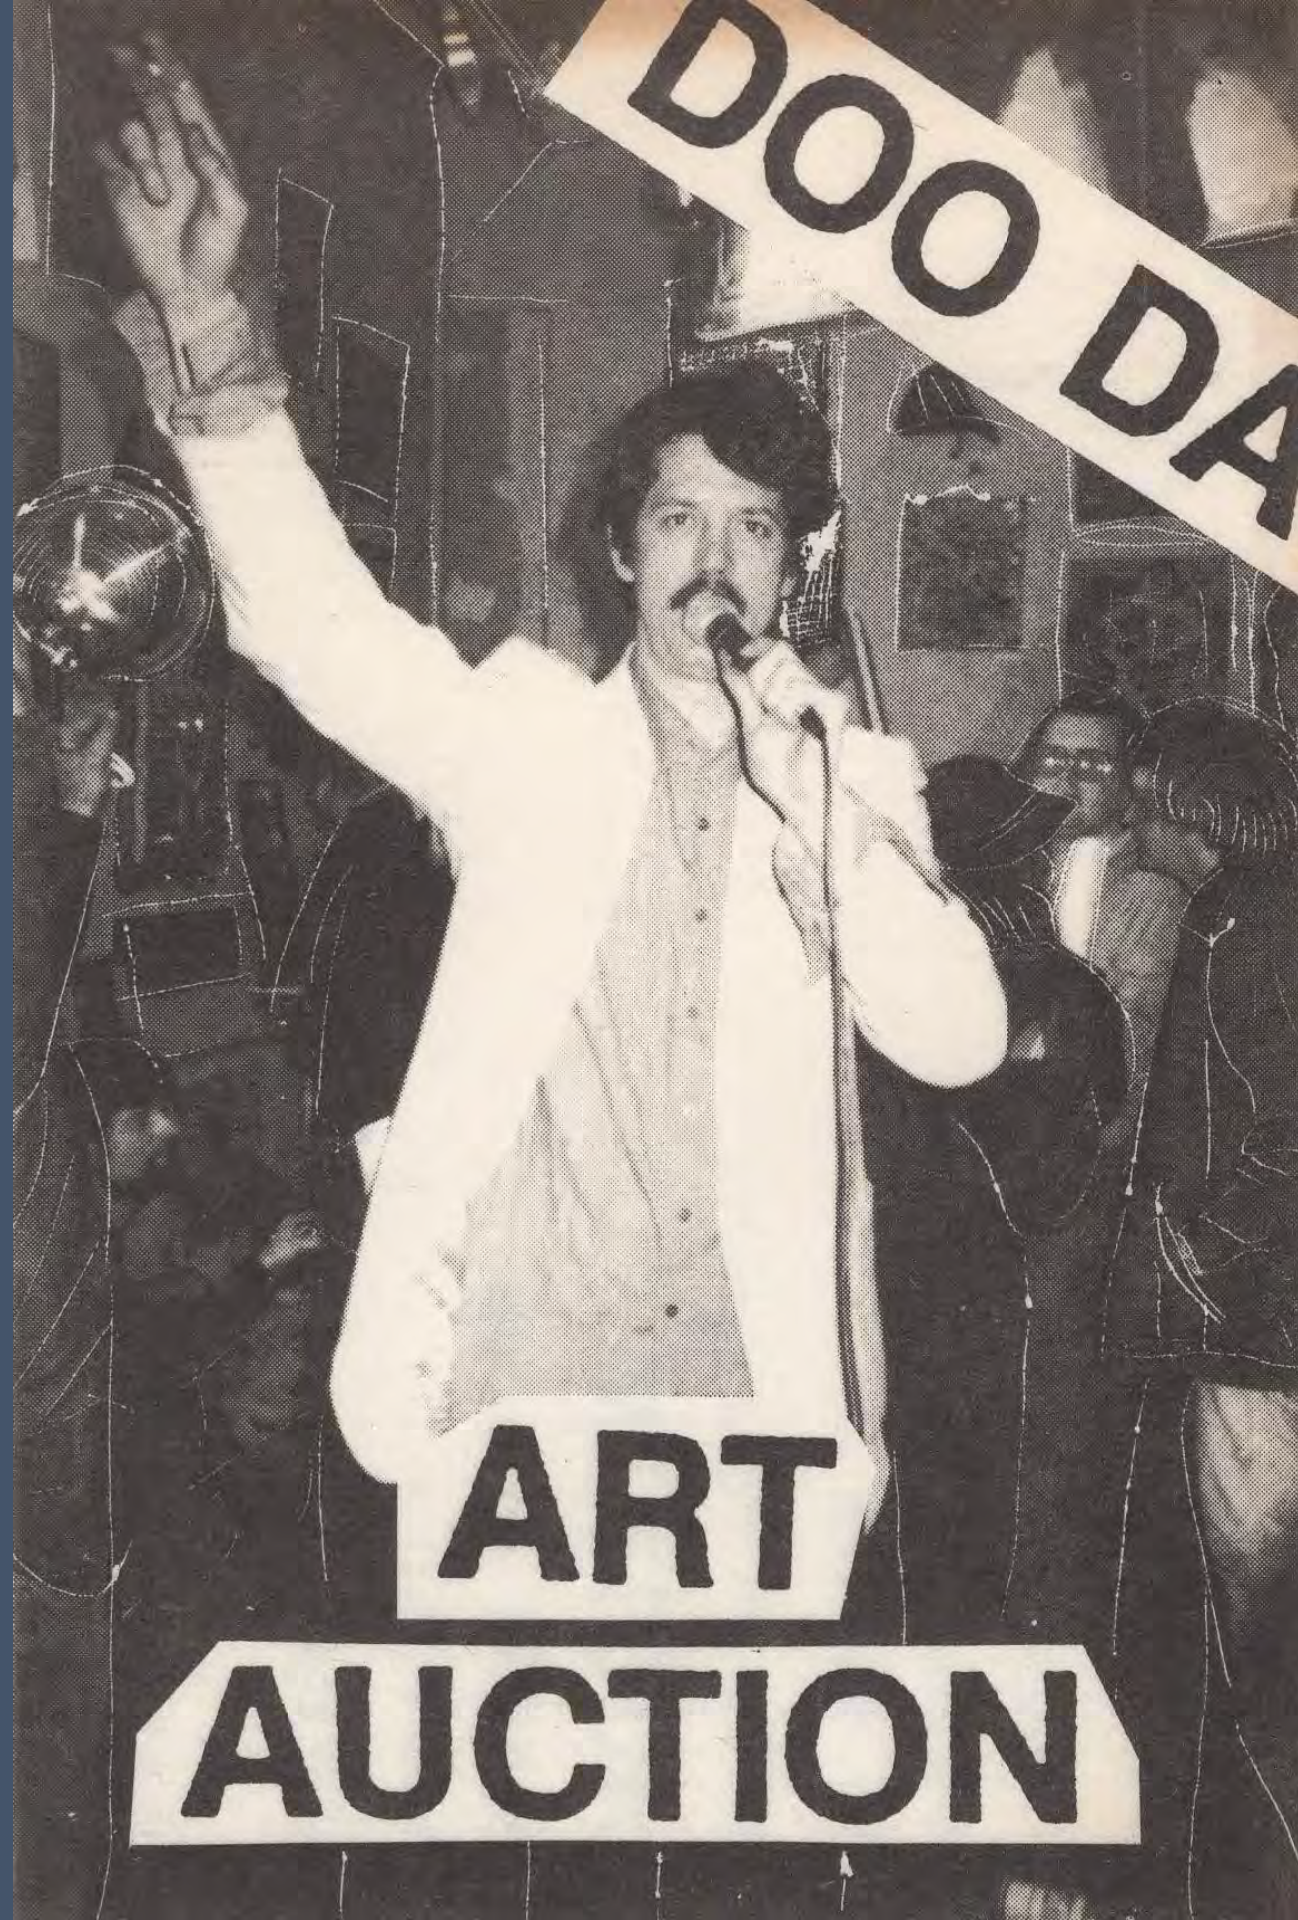

HOMMAGE 'A CAVELLINI

BUSTER CLEVELAND

E.F. HIGGINS III

E.F. Higgins III and Buster Cleveland did a performance piece on September 20, 1980 at the corner of West Broadway and Spring Street in Soho, N.Y.C. The artwork consisted of each artist applying Cavellini's "Cavellini-Van Gogh" postage stamps to each other's body, starting at the feet. The artists wore purple jock straps. After each of them was covered and photo documented, the stamps were removed.
